MILWAUKEE, February 14, 1880.

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the Nominees of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M. on Wednesday, May 5th, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional district and four from the State at large), to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 24th of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

Minnesota had 549 twins in 1879, out of 32,900 births, and only 7,037 deaths.

There are two things that the Democratic party has never enjoyed to any extent—hope and harmony.

The real aim of the Democratic party is to make the government so weak that the shot-gun and tissue ballot can capture and control it.

A man by the name of Clark has been sheriff of Suffolk county, Massachusetts, for twenty-five years, and his official days are not yet numbered.

The great question to be settled at Cincinnati is, which is the strongest, Kelly's influence or Tilden's barrel? That is the issue in the Democratic party.

Mr. Davies was very kind, to consent to become a sacrifice for the Democrats in the city. Not every man would have been so willing to offer himself up in that manner.

If the Democrats are successful in Congress in carrying out their professional scheme, there won't be enough left of the party next November to officiate at its funeral.

The opposers of Mr. Tilden still insist that he is out of the way. Judging from the manner in which they talk about the sage of Gramercy, he seems very much in the way.

Mr. Jenkins, a name familiar to the Republicans, does not appear at the Democratic ticket in Milwaukee. As Mr. Jenkins accepts nominations to be defeated, he should not have misimproved his opportunity.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives has passed by a vote of 115 to 55, a resolution favoring biennial sessions of the Legislature. It will be concurred in by the Senate. The Madison papers should publish this fact as an item of news.

No nation on earth pays so high a rate of pensions as the United States, and yet men will continue to tinker with the pension laws. It will require a little over 35 millions of dollars to pay the pensions for the current year, and next year the sum will be swollen to over 40 millions.

Inasmuch as the committee having the Washburn-Donnelly case in charge has decided that neither is entitled to a seat in Congress, why not bring the matter to a focus, and remand the case back to the people of the Third District of Minnesota?
It will be interesting to see the result in that District.

The Iowa Legislature has done a good thing in enacting a law to clean out deadbeat witnesses in criminal cases. It is in the interest of reducing court expenses, and is therefore very important. In substance it provides that in no criminal case shall witnesses for the defense be subor-nated at the expense of the county, except upon order of the court or Judge before whom the case is pending; and then only upon a satisfactory showing that the witnesses are material and necessary for the defense, and the board of supervisors shall in no case audit any claim for witness fees for the defense in criminal cases except upon order of the court. This timely law will save thousands of dollars to the county every year.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The conditions upon which the entire Republican city ticket can be elected, are very simple. Let every member of the party do his duty and turn out and vote, and the thing is done. In this way success can be achieved, and it is the only way which will bring about the result so much desired. By common diligence, the party can elect its ticket, and place in office men abundantly able to fill the positions for which they

HORRIBLE HANGING.

The Execution of Stone at Washington—His Head Jerked Off by the Noose—The Body Falling to the Ground—While Blood Spurted in Torrents from the Body.

WASHINGTON, April 2—A colored man named James Madison Stone was hanged here today for murder. He killed his wife by cutting her throat with a razor in a fit of jealousy, a year ago. He was formerly from Maine, and for a long time was employed in the office of the New York Associated Press here. At the time of the murder he was keeping a restaurant. Stone has been twice tried and convicted, and was reprieved because the date of death in the original sentence accidentally selected was Good Friday. His defense was based on emotional insanity, and he pleaded to his last breath that he was unaware of what he was doing when committing the crime. He was always of a religious disposition, and during his entire imprisonment has been very devotional, professing that heaven had forgiven him for his crime. His attorney made a great many appeals to the President to commute his sentence, but, with four murderers in the county jail, three under sentence to be hanged and one untried, the President decided that public policy required that the sentence should be executed. While the appeal for pardon was pending there was another murder of the most atrocious character, which rather diminished the President's attentions.

After Stone ate breakfast this morning he held religious services with the other prisoners, the three other confined murderers joining. Shortly after 11 o'clock his clergyman arrived, and the time was spent in singing and praying and religious conversation. Then Stone walked up to the scaffold with a firm step, and taking a position facing north, whispered a few words with Dr. Rankin.

The prisoner then stepped back on the platform, and the ministers and others bidding him good by the noose was placed over his ear, the black cap adjusted, and at 1:10 o'clock the drop fell. Horrible to relate, the head was totally jerked off by the fall, and the body fell to the earth.
The head for a moment hung to the noose, and then dropped, splashing the beams with gore, and then fell three or four feet from the body. Blood spurted out of the neck in a stream. The physicians of the jail and other physicians were present to examine him, but of course he was dead in a few minutes. Some of the physicians immediately went to the body, and while the blood was spurting from the neck, gradually diminishing, felt for the pulsations of the heart, and they state there was a muscular movement for about two minutes. Dr. Crook picked up the head, and as he did so, the black cap falling off he noticed that the lips moved and the features appeared calm. At the moment of the fall of the body, which fell on its back, there was a cry of horror in the enclosure, "My God, the rope is broken!" and there was a rush to see what had occurred. The trap, when it fell, obscured the view of most of those on the ground, who thought at first the rope had broken. But fortunately Mr. Huntman, who had remained at the office later than usual, made the discovery that prevented the intended mischief. When arrested Footo appeared quite unconcerned and he told his wife, who was with him on the street, that he did not know the cause, but to-day he is quite broken down. Yesterday, while examining insurance policies held on the property, Footo remarked to Huntman that he "wished the d—d thing would burn up," and also said that he "had money enough he would leave the city." Public feeling is strong against him, and his previous record in this city has been discredited to-day by crowds waiting to hear the examination. He was arraigned at 5 o'clock and committed to jail on default of $1,000 bail, to await examination to-morrow at 2 o'clock. Footo's father-in-law, James Vincent, a wealthy lumber merchant, who furnished the money, Footo has had in the Democrat office, says he will not assist him; that if he is a rascal he can help himself, and that he had caused enough trouble by his actions and his reputation. Vincent holds a mortgage on the Democrat property, but has

THE CALLOWS.

Execution of Edward Tatro at Windsor—His Speech on the Scaffold.

WINDSOR, Vt., April 2—Edward Tatro was executed in the prison hall to-day at 2:02. His family took their leave of him yesterday morning. Charles Butler, the husband of the murdered woman, was at the prison this forenoon, but refused to see Tatro.

When the Sheriff had finished reading the death-warrant he asked Tatro if he had anything to say. The boy answered:
"Yes, sir," rose deliberately from the chair, and, stepping boldly to the front of the gallows, said:
"Gentlemen, I stand here guilty of the murder with which I am charged—the murder of Mrs. Charles Butler, (pointing to Butler who stood near) I done the deed through his own money. Butler took me to work for him when a young boy. He used liquor himself, and always kept it in the house. Butler testified that he never got drunk, but he was under the influence of liquor most all the time. I feel sorry for you, Butler (looking straight at him and pointing with both hands), for your dead wife, whom I respected very much.

She was a lovely woman, and I never had any evil intentions about her until that night. I done it through excess of drink, and at the instigation of Mr. Butler, who stands right there (pointing again to him). Oh, Mr.
Butler, do you remember what your mother said to you when lying on the bed there? She said: "Oh, Charlie, after all I have said, I must die, leaving you a drunkard." Good-by, Mr. Butler, good-by; forgive me; I hope to meet you in the heavenly land. I hope you will all forgive me. I have nothing more to say, gentlemen. Oh Lord, I thank you that you have heard my prayer. I ask your forgiveness.
Remember and forgive me, for Jesus Christ's sake. I have nothing more to say.
Good by, one and all."

The boys hands were tied, and pointing his bound hands towards Mr. Butler, he said: "See that Mr. Butler." The latter by this time was covered, with perspiration. Tatro stepped back to the door, his legs were pinioned, and then, in extreme anguish, he cried to God, asking repetedly for forgiveness, and to be remembered. "Oh, Lord, forgive me. Oh, Lord, have mercy upon me. Oh, Lord, remember me. Oh, Father hear me." The black cap was drawn over his face. At 2:03, and amid heartrending groans, Sheriff Simons said: "Edward Tatro, the time has come for the law to take effect upon you, and may God have mercy upon your soul." The boy dropped six feet, but his neck did not break. He struggled two and a half minutes, and at the expiration of fourteen minutes was dead.

NEW ORLEANS, April 2—The utmost hospitality continues to be extended to General Grant. This morning, after a visit to the Cotton Exchange, he went to the State House, where he was received by Governor Wiltz and conducted to the chamber of the House of Representatives.
Speaker Robert Ogden introduced him, the members all standing, saying that he regarded General Grant as the greatest American citizen. He was glad that the country had passed the era of strife; that he was confident it would never return again. We were a reunited people, at peace with the world and among ourselves. He believed we would remain so.

General Grant replied:
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislature of Louisiana: It is rather unusual thing for me to attempt to say anything in public halls, particularly in a legislative hall, but I am delighted to be here and hear such generous sentiments as are uttered by your worthy Speaker, because they have always felt that differences between a common people after they have once been settled should remain so forever afterwards. I am sure that I rejoice as much as any member of this Legislature at anything that goes to make up the prosperity of Louisiana, and of the entire South. We are members of a united people, and I believe that no one nation, nor all the nations combined, could separate us, and, gentlemen, should such an attempt be made, I believe that the bravest of the defenders of the Union would be found among the men before me. [Cheers.] I rejoice with you in the prosperity of your State, knowing, as I do, that whatever benefits one portion of the country will also benefit the entire country.

Gentlemen, I thank you for this cordial reception, and am not only gratified for this, but for all the attentions shown me since my arrival here. [Applause.]

The General's address was received with marked approval. He was then introduced to the Senate, but made no address. The members passed up and were introduced.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

A. T. Foote Arrested for Arson in La Crosse.

LA CROSSE, April 2—An excitement such as not frequently occurs here has prevailed to-day over the arrest late last night of A. T. Foote, junior member of the firm of Pomero & Foote, editors and proprietors of Pomero's Democrat, on the charge of attempting to burn the Democrat building by placing a box of combustibles containing a lighted candle in a part of the building best fitted to start a conflagration, a place where there was no possibility of discovery from the outside, a room to which but two had access—Mr. Huntman, the managing editor, and Foote. There were no outer windows, and the candle was timed to reach the combustibles in three or four hours, when a fire would have been started that would not only have consumed the Democrat building, but the new opera house with all its valuable and immovable contents, and perhaps other property near at hand. But fortunately Mr. Huntman, who had remained at the office later than
feeling is strong against him, and his pre-
to-morrow at 2 o'clock. Footo's father-
in-law, James Vincent, a wealthy
money, Footo has had in the Democrat
gage on the Democrat property, but has secured himself by holding the insurance policies. It is said that if Foote is not convicted on this charge he will on others quite as bad.

YOU LIE, SIR.

A Quarrel Between Springer and Manning Over the Minnesota Case.

WASHINGTON, April 2—Representative Manning, who presented the report favoring the seating of Donnelly, says to-day that he has by no means abandoned the contest, and that he may yet be able, when the subject is reported to the House, to have Donnelly seated. There has been a good deal of talk to-day among members as to the reported quarrel in the Elections Committee yesterday between Manning and Springer on this subject. The following is said to be a more detailed statement of what occurred there last night: Manning, it is said, had expressed his surprise that Springer should vote against the seating of Donnelly, and insinuated that Springer had suddenly changed his mind.
Evergreen Springer and Manning became involved in a short, personal controversy, in which finally Manning said:
"The Chairman of this Committee told me that he would vote for my report."
"I told you nothing of the kind," Mr.
Springer replied.

"The Chairman of this Committee did tell me that he would vote for my report," Mr. Manning replied; "and if he denies it now he lies." Mr. Manning was standing at this time, and Mr. Springer sat in his chair at the head of the table. He said:
"The gentleman from Mississippi will retract those words." As Chairman of the Committee he had the advantage of his antagonist, and called for the retraction in a tone of command. Mr. Manning simply answered: "Yes, I withdraw them for the time being."

"No," said Mr. Springer, "you withdraw them for all time."

Mr. Manning was about to reply further, but another gentleman interfered and the matter was hushed.

SHERMAN IN OHIO.

His Presidential Prospects Reported on the Gain.

COLUMBUS, April 2—The reception of Secretary Sherman here to-day was a tame affair, and had not the announcement of his expected arrival been made in the press, very few would have known of his presence. Ex-Governor Young, Warren M. Bateman, and several other Sherman men were in the city. Governor Foster had the Secretary in charge, and gave him a reception in the evening. It was decided before Sherman's arrival that he should make no speech and he did not. The proposed banquet to be given Sherman was turned into a public reception. It is probable that Sherman's bureau in this city will now begin work in real earnest. It is probable that he is gaining strength in the state.

EDUCATIONAL.

WASHINGTON, April 2—The legislature of North Carolina in 1879 passed a resolution asking the general government, through the Senators and representatives from that State, to appropriate $1,000,000 for the establishment of a university for the education of the white youth of the South, "near the headwaters of the beautiful Swannanoa, at the foot of the highest peak east of the Rocky mountains," a location "au-rivalled for its beauty, its healthfulness, purity of its air, and its sweetness of waters," and another $1,000,000 for a university somewhere else in the south for the education of the colored youth. The house committee on education and labor say, in their report, that they can not overlook the questionable constitutionality of congress establishing universities only in the south, and direct attention to the bill favorably reported by them and now pending, which proposes to appropriate the net proceeds of the sale of public lands among the states according to their illiteracy, to promote the cause of education, believing that this bill will accomplish the object sought by the North Carolina legislature as nearly as it can be accomplished by Congress. They ask to be discharged from the consideration of the resolution.

LIKELY TO BE LYNCHED.

DENVER, Col., April 2—A dispatch from Los Vega, N. M., says this morning two desperadoes, David Rudebagh and John Allen, entered the jail, shot and fatally wounded the jailor, and attempted to rescue Webb, a prisoner under the death sentence for murder. The rescuers were scared off before accomplishing their purpose. A posse is in pursuit, and, if captured, the men will certainly be lynched.

CUT TO PIECES.

MILWAUKEE, April 2—While attempting to board a Northwestern train here tonight, a middle aged Holland emigrant slipped between two cars and was literally cut to pieces. His name and destination are unknown.

Government Powder Magazine and Manufactory.
New York Tribune.

For some time ordnance officers of the United States army have been looking for a suitable tract of land upon which to store the Government powder, and erect works for the manufacture of powder. The essential conditions are that the tract shall be away from the salt air, which is said to have a deteriorating influence upon the article; that it shall at the same time be easy of access and easily fortified; that it shall afford waterpower and have deposits of clay necessary for manufacture; that it shall be large enough to contain a number of magazines at such distances apart that the explosion of one will not affect the rest, and it is desirable that the location shall be behind the fortifications of the New York harbor. Locations have been surveyed in this State, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New Jersey. The tract known as the "Middle Forge property," on the Green Pond Mountain, Morris county, Neb., a few miles from Dover, seems to have been finally selected. At least negotiations have so far advanced that a request of the army officer in charge, a bill was passed by the late New Jersey legislature to allow the United States to acquire a title to the land. The tract contains 1,400 acres, and belongs to George E.

Richter. Congress has made an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose, and annual appropriations for maintaining the magazine and manufactory will be made hereafter. It is expected that similar action will be taken by the Navy Department.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Levy will take his horn at Manhattan beach next summer to the tune of $500 a week.

Cyrus W. Field has twenty-three decorations of honor from the European royalty.

Wm Smoak, of Orangeburg county, S C, who is 97 years old, has 275 descendants.

Major General Hancock has a farm of 480 acres of fine land near Windsor, Mo., which he looks upon as his homestead, where he means to pass the latter years of his life. Before going into the army he was a citizen of Missouri, and married in that State.

Mrs Zachariah Chandler has sent to Mr Jesse Spaulding, of Chicago, the case which her late husband carried on for many years, as a memento of the intimate friendship which existed between them. Mr Spaulding presided at the Chicago meeting at which Mr Chandler delivered his last public address.

After Washington had been President for two terms he was chosen Justice of the Peace for his county in Virginia, and John Adams, too, although he retired from Washington to Quincy, in no sweet temper of mind, consented to serve his neighbors in the same official capacity. These shuning examples are commended to the ex-Presidents, who are anxiously looking for some vent for their exuberant activity.

Serator Thurman showed a glimpse of gallant care for his wife when he was suddenly taken ill on the floor of the Senate the other evening. When in the midst of his greatest suffering he realized that the report would soon reach his house, he said to one of the Senators near him: "Send a messenger immediately to my house to tell my wife I'm not sick."

Professor Agassiz is reported to have become very wealthy as president and shareholder of the Calumet and Hecla copper mines of Lake Superior. At a time when the stock was sold for 5 cents on the dollar he visited the mines, and his scientific eye instantly saw their value. His income from them for several months past is said to be $2,500 a day. Since 1870 the Professor has carried them to the point of their present enormous value. College the generous amount of $300,000.

E. C. Palmer, the president of the Louisiana Savings Bank, recently engaged to hard labor for three years, is a New Yorker who for many years was connected with leading houses in that city. He was the son of a partner in the house of Joseph Wild & Co., dealers in carpets, and through that connection he became very influential with the Croseleys, of Halifax, who from time to time advanced large sums with which he operated. He is the owner of three sugar plantations. The severity of his sentence is a great blow to his friends and connections, of whom he has a number in Brooklyn and New York.

The Empress Eugenie's famous pearl necklace is now the property of one of the richest women in Europe, Countess Henckel. The Empress had the pearls sold in London. One of her ladies, accompanied by two friends of the imperial widow, carried them to an English jeweler who bought them and disposed of them to the Countess Henckel for 350,000 francs.
This lady had some of the pearls less beautiful than the others removed, and added two other rows, one, which came from the jewels sold by the Queen of Naples, the other from the necklace of the Virgin of Atocha, sold by a great Spanish paragon.

At present the suit of pearls belonging to the Countess, earnings and brooch included is worth 800,000 or 900,000 francs. It is said to be the finest set of pearls in the world.

THE DOCTORS YIELDING.

Ever since Prof. Green wrote to the Medical Association advising physicians everywhere to use the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure in their practice, it has been gaining in favor with the profession. They can find nothing which is a substitute for it.
It. Calkins, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., says he would now prescribe it to all who are afflicted with serious kidney and liver diseases.

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY.

A Petrified Body in an Illinois Cemetery.
From the Mount City Illinois, Argus-Journal.

The old residents of Southern Illinois recollect very well General M. M. Rawlings, a prominent man in the State and the founder of Mount City, and his son, Frank Rawlings, in his time the brilliant young attorney and orator in that part of the State. The latter died a comparatively young man about 30 years of age, over twenty years ago, and his father died some years later. They were buried side by side at Villa Ridge.

A few days since relatives of the deceased raised and removed the bodies to a situation thought more desirable and pleasant The coffin of Frank Rawlings was found to be unaccountably heavy, six stout men being required to handle it. The friends thought they would open the casket to discover the cause of this, when they found the corpse apparently as natural in every line of form and feature as when interred, even the beard being preserved. The body was petrified, but the pallor of the corpse was retained. There are several witnesses to verify these facts, including a physician of reputation residing at Villa Ridge, who was called to examine the corpse.

It is undoubtedly one of the most remarkable cases of its character on record, and for the benefit of science should be thoroughly investigated in detail. It promises to upset the general theory in regard to petrifications, as we understand that the coffin was both water and air tight.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, July 30, 1879.
Messrs. Morgan & Allen, 59 John St, New York City.

Gentlemen—I consider it a duty I owe mankind to inform you of the benefit I have derived since last Sunday evening, when I took my first 40 drops of "Constitution Water," recommended by a friend, I having cured him of kidney trouble. I have suffered a great pain across the small of my back, so acute that it would shake me out of a sound sleep, but, thanks to your medicine, I am now entirely well, and have not taken six doses in all. Your remedy is well worth $10 per bottle, but the price, $1, puts it within the reach of us all.

Yours truly,
ROBERT CATHART,
70 West 19th St, New York City.

BRIEFLETS.

—Low Sunday to-morrow.
—The Republican Club meets to-night.
—No Round Table to-night. Put off one week.
—The citizens took another drink last night.
—Two or three large parties are booked for early days.
—Miss Battle and her pupils give a musical next Monday night.
—Song and praise service at the First Methodist Church to-night.
—The house hunting season has opened. Hunting is plenty, but horses are scarce.
—One case of drunkenness broke the monotony of doing police duty last night.
—The City Treasurer paid off the teachers to-day. Trade is unusually lively among the dry goods men.
—Mrs. Erwin has returned from Dubuque, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Parker.
—Charles Marshall has purchased the residence of William Brooks west of the First ward school, on Terry street.
—The railroad enterprises are not being forgotten or neglected even in the midst of the election excitement.
—Dr. Whiting declines the Democratic nomination for Alderman in the Third ward. So says the official paper of that party.
—Wm. Hodson gave his lecture last evening on the "Bee Hive." There was no swarm at the door and very little honey to the lecture.

—The Temple of Honor meet at their hall to-morrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and will attend the funeral of George Berpee in a body.
—Davies says he won't feel bad if he isn't elected Mayor. That's right. We don't want to see his heart crushed, and we are glad he is preparing to meet the inevitable.

—Rev. O. L. Barler, of Chicago, will deliver a lecture on "Swedenborg," Monday evening, April 5, at Cannon's hall. Admission ten cents. Lecture commences at 8 o'clock.
—Of the thirteen persons nominated on both tickets for city offices—nine live on the West side and five in the Fourth ward. Moral. Go West, you East side young men, if you want office.

—The Janesville Guards, of which G. L. Burpee was formerly a member, will attend his funeral to-morrow, as a company, in citizens dress, fatigue cap and white gloves. They will meet at the armory at quarter of two o'clock.

—Charlie Jenkins got back from the lake last evening. He got lots of ducks but no duckings. Charlie is death on quacks, and when he gets his eye on them they might just as well curl up their toes, say their prayers, and die easy, for he'll have them sure.

—The effort made to enjoin the loading of the Chicago & Pacific railroad to the Milwaukee & St. Paul, failed, and a letter of that line has been made to the St. Paul road for 999 years. This makes it still more certain that there will be a line all the way from Janesville to some point on that road.

—J. B. Doe, Jr., has returned from the lake, where he had a good time, got sun-burned, and captured a goodly number of ducks. He says he will not accept the Democratic nomination for City Attorney against his partner, who is the Republican nominee, and the Committee will have to put up with some other man.

—Lieutenant Glass shows us to-day the gold medal, which is to be contested for by the members of the Guard. It is a beauty, consisting of a gold bar bearing the word "Opus," and a pendant of shield form upon which appears a moro, gram showing the letters "J. G." It is to be given to the member who shows the best drill in the manual at the close of this month. It will be contested for each month thereafter, and anyone able to hold it in three successive contests is to have it forever and ever. Now for the best man.

—The attention of the Democratic voters is called to the city ticket which shows in every line the ingratitude of their leaders. The foreign elements in Janesville furnish more than three-fourths of the strength of the Democratic party, and yet that ticket does not contain the name of a single person whose name, language or appearance has an Irish, German or other foreign flavor. Whether this conspicuous absence was occasioned by the opinion of the native-born Democratic leaders that their party had no natural member competent to fill an office, or whether it was merely a design to ignore and reject the proper claims of their largest element, or whether it was only an oversight, the outrage and insult were not the less marked and galling.

—It is really a cause for rejoicing that the prospects are so favorable for a change in the character of the Common Council. It is even gratifying to observe that if the Democrats succeed in electing some of their adherents—which at the present writing does not seem possible—the body will be composed of men whose chief claims to immortality will not be profanity, violence and illiteracy. In four wards Republican candidates have been selected, and without exception they are men of sense and standing, thoroughly identified with the business interests of the city, and competent and trustworthy. They are not men who will have the time to devote four nights in determining the location of a fifteen dollar lamp-post, but will transact the municipal business promptly and economically.

—A lonely death occurred last night in the barn occupied by Mr. J. L. Sliter, the Janesville stage man, on Race street. Michael Case, a man about 55 years of age, poor, uneducated, and without relatives, was found in the barn this morning by Mr. Sliter, lying on a little pile of hay and horse blankets. The deceased had been employed by Mr. Sliter about two months, and for the past three nights had expressed a desire to sleep in the barn. Last night Mr. Sliter urged him to go to the house, as he was not as well as usual, but Mr. Case preferred to remain in the barn. City Marshal North and Deputy Coroner E. P. King were notified. Dr. Strong examined the body and pronounced the cause of death to have been pulmonary apoplexy. The deceased had suffered with asthma for many years. Dr. King concluded that there was no need of holding an inquest. Marshal North caused the body to be buried this forenoon. Mr. Case came to this city from New York State about 15 years ago, and was until recently employed by Wm. Taylor. —Bellevue Free Press.
